IN THE JURY'S HANDS

NO VERDICT REACHED IN THE DOWDEN-ARENTS CASE.

OTHER NEWS OF THE COURTS.

Charter Granted to a Medical Society--No Further Steps Yet Taken by the Slot-Machine Men--Divorce Proceedings--Suits, Judgments.

The case of Mrs. Laura B. Dowden, who sues Miss Grace Arents for $25,000, for alleged defamation of character, was given to the jury last night, but no verdict was reached, and its further consideration was postponed until this morning.

The hearing has occupied Judge Minor and a jury in the Law and Equity Court for the past two days, and the suit has been very stubbornly fought. Mr. L. O. Wendenburg appeared as counsel for the plaintiff, and Messrs. B. B. Munford and Charles S. Stringfellow for the defendant. Only five witnesses in all were examined, but the examination was minute. Mrs. Dowden testified in her own behalf, and introduced two character witnesses. The defense readily conceded Mrs. Dowden's good character, and Miss Arents and her sister both denied that any statement detrimental to the plaintiff in any way had been made by defendant, and Miss Grace Arents testified that she had never accused Mrs. Dowden of the theft of the jewelry and money that was missed from Mr. Ginter's residence.

GROUNDS OF THE SUIT.

The declaration in the case, which consists of five counts, sets out as the cause of action that while the plaintiff was employed as housekeeper by the late Lewis Ginter, lady, during the latter part of 1896, certain jewelry and money, the property of the defendant, her sister, and Major Ginter, were frequently missed, and that the defendant made charges in connection therewith which reflected on her character and brought her into disrepute.

It is further claimed that in a discourse, alleged to have taken place between plaintiff and defendant, the latter stated that Mr. Ginter had said that plaintiff was guilty of the theft and would have leave his house thereon. Two days, that in a subsequent conversation with one Mary H. Wilkinson the damaging statement was repeated, and that it was later still repeated to Rev. Pike Powers. All this the defense denied.

A DIVORCE SUIT INSTITUTED.

Jeane Divorce has filed suit for divorce from his wife, Sarah Michael, in this court. No declaration has yet been made.

The suit of Jacobs vs. City of Richmond, to recover damages through the breaking of a sewer, is set for trial next Monday.

Counsel for the slot-machine owners have not yet decided whether or not they will appeal to the Supreme Court.

The total number of licensed slot-machines was 23, on which the license was $10 a year each.

A Broad-street saloon-keeper has a following notice written thereon:

"Notice--No one is allowed to use this machine. It is for sale for $125."

The case was tried in the Hustings Court on the charge of cutting James Kemp. The evidence against him was READY FOR MONDAY.

DEMOCRATIC MASS-MEETING IN MANCHESTER THAT NIGHT.

CONGRESSMEN JONES AND LAMB.

These Gentlemen Are the Orators of the Occasion--Mayor Maurice to Preside--Copeland and Staten Get Three Months Each.

The Democratic City Committee of Manchester held a meeting last night, and besides arranging for the mass-meeting and speaking on Monday night, transacted a great deal of important business.

Chairman D. L. Toney presided, and there were present Messrs. Charles Burkert, C. W. Gooding, W. J. Osterline, J. L. Redford, and R. E. Owen.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Royall and Burkert a reception committee for Monday night.

Messrs. Owen, Osterline, Burkert, and Redford were appointed ushers for Monday night.

Mr. Redford was instructed to procure a band of music also for the speaking.

The motion of Mr. Gooding, for Hon. H. A. Maurice, Mayor of the city, to be invited to present the speakers, was carried unanimously.

Chairman Toney was instructed to issue a number of invitations to prominent men of the city and Richmond to occupy seats on the platform. It was then announced that Leader Hall had been secured for the night, and everything was in readiness for the meeting.

THREE MEMBERS RESIGN.

Resignations were received from three of the members of the committee--Messrs. O. B. Elder, C. E. Pickett, and W. T. Pugh. They were accepted, and Councilman J. R. Green was elected to meet also.

Mr. Royall announced to the committee, through the chairman, that he could not serve on the committee to collect campaign funds and Messrs. Burkert and Gooding were appointed to succeed him.

Mr. Osterline was elected treasurer of the committee to succeed Mr. Pugh.

Mr. Gooding moved for permission to be granted to the three members from the First Ward to speak for speaking by local orators in that ward Monday night, October 21st. The motion was carried. After that the committee adjourned.

GET THREE MONTHS EACH.

The Hustings Court was engaged yesterday in the trial of Marshall Copeland and Van Staten, the colored boys charged with the murder of George Bird, also a colored youth, with the result that both were convicted of involuntary manslaughter, and committed to jail for three months. It was on August 27th that Copeland and Bird fought at the Hull-street railway crossing. Copeland struck Bird with a rock, knocking him down. It is alleged that Station Copeland's pal, kicked Bird in the side. Bird had to be carried home after the fight, and lingered until the 20th of September, when he died.

The youthful slayers were very much distressed at what they had done, and frequently went to see Bird while he was sick, and helped him to pass many otherwise dull hours very pleasantly. The jury was disposed to be light with the boys because of their youth, and because, while the consequences were most serious, the whole affair was nothing more than a street fight between boys.

WRDDED NEXT WEEK.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage next Wednesday of Dr. Lynn Detrick of Hanover, to Miss Sue McWharther, of Norfolk.

The ceremony will be performed at Norfolk by Rev. George H. McFadden, of this city. The bride-elect is a sister of Mr. McFadden, who is now in the City by the Sea. Rev. Mr. McFadden goes Monday to join her.

Dr. Detrick is a young physician of Hanover, very popular and promising.

MR. STARKEY WINS.

The engineers' contest for the torch given by the Ladies' Bazaar in Manchester, which was won by Mr. C. Starkey, of the Chesapeake and Ohio, being the successful contestant. He received 640 votes. His closest contestant was Mr. Phillips, of the Coast-Line, who also received a large following. The contest was between two men of the city, and the latter was very close to the night with a great cake walk and free admission to all.

PERSONALS AND BRIEFS.

Mr. Charles Fisher, who has been ill for several weeks past, is improving.

Mr. W. V. Markham, of Chesterfield, was on the streets yesterday.

Mr. J. Frank Douglas, of Brems Bluff, is in the city visiting friends.

Mr. Floyd Jones, of Swansboro, is spending two weeks in Chesterfield hunting.

Mrs. J. A. Thompson, of Keyville, is visiting Mrs. W. B. Pleasant, on East Ninth street.

Mr. W. G. Garnett, physician to Mrs. Samuel D. Attkisson, reports no change for the better in that venerable lady's condition.

Mr. J. W. Arrington, of Reidsville, N. C., is in the city. He was formerly located here where he occupied the position of secretary of the Old Dominion Cotton-Mills.

The ball given at the Armory Thursday night, for the benefit of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Association, was very largely attended and was a very pleasant affair.

Last, But Not Least.

On Sunday night at Calvary Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. H. A. Bagby, will preach the last of the series of sermons on the question, "Is the World Growing Better or Worse?" This sermon, unlike the preceding ones, will deal with the world outside of the Church, and will doubtless be the crowning effort of this young, but brilliant, theologian. A feature of the service will be a solo by the Rosa M. Sweeney, vocal instructor of the Woman's College.

Sunday-School Work in the South.

Rev. J. H. McCullagh, superintendent of the Southern Division of the American Sunday-School Union, is in the city in the interest of this influential organization, and is stopping at the Lexington. Hon. William Wirt Henry and Messrs. Joseph Bryan, John Morton, C. E. Wellford, and Charles P. Rely, all of this city, are vice-presidents of the union.

Mrs. Gill's Excursion Monday.

Mrs. Gill's excursion to Washington next Monday morning bids fair to prove one of the largest of the season, as many who contemplate attending the Peace Jubilee at Philadelphia will avail themselves of the service by a solo by Washington by Mrs. Gill. Those who go can return either Monday night or Tuesday.

Home on Sick Leave.

Captain Jeb Stuart, Quartermaster of the First Brigade, Second Division, Seventh Army Corps, at Jacksonville, is at home in this city on sick leave. He is about recovered.

E. J. Crane sent one of his employees to Baltimore yesterday to identify, if possible, Willie Brice, who is held by the police there for an alleged theft, committed last March.

Assistant-Engineer J. M. Hudgins, of the United States army, stationed at New Orleans, is visiting his brother, Mr. H. H. Hudgins, at No. 60 East Cary street. He will also visit his old home in Buckingham county.

DRUGERY

Monotonous Work That Wears the Life Away.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is a Blessing to the Toiling Masses.

There is no greater strain upon the nerves than monotonous drudgery. Women in stores and factories, and men in the various mechanical occupations are complaining of nervous exhaustion, insomnia, melancholy, headache, and neuralgia. All such ills disappear under treatment by Dr. Greene's Nervura, which a quarter of a century of success has established as a standard specific for all diseases and mental depression, accompanied by forgetfulness and incapacity for intelligent work. Features of such disease, Dr. Greene's Nervura for the blood and nerves is an unfailing specific for all such ailments, and quickly overcomes every disagreeable symptom by removing the cause. Nervura is new life, new ambition, new happiness, and usefulness. No case of impaired vitality, whatever may be the cause, should be neglected. Such a condition is a constant invitation to disease and death. Serious cases of dyspepsia require revitalization of the nervous system. Female complaints are often complicated by such symptoms as general physical exhaustion, insomnia, melancholy, headache, and neuralgia. All such ills disappear under treatment by Dr. Greene's Nervura, which a quarter of a century of success has established as a standard specific for all diseases and mental depression, accompanied by forgetfulness and incapacity for intelligent work. CAPE CHARLES.

The Y. M. C. A. to Build--Brief Mention.

CAPE CHARLES, Va., October 21--(Special.)--Mr. R. H. Townsend, Jr., son-in-law of the W. L. Scott, of Erie, Pa., and owner of "Hollywood" truck farm, has appointed Messrs. W. B. Wilson and R. D. L. Fletcher, of this city, managers of "Hollywood," succeeding Captain Orris A. Browne, deceased. While here Mr. Townsend donated a lot near the public school-house to the Young Men's Christian Association, upon which a handsome building will soon be erected.

Mr. Matthew Coleman, who has been employed by the Maintenance of Way Department of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad, left here a few days ago for Norfolk, Va., where he has accepted a position as foreman of the track of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Belt Line railroad, which was recently completed.

Mr. W. P. Wise, of this county, shipped a barrel of sweet potatoes to Boston on Thursday last containing only thirty potatoes. The potatoes averaged 5 pounds and 2 ounces each.

Captain Thomas Parsons is erecting a handsome brick residence on Mason avenue, adjoining the brick residence of his son, Mr. C. W. Parsons.

Messrs. John T. Daniel and W. S. Tunnel have moved into their new residences, recently completed, on Tazewell avenue.

Mr. William G. Smith has laid the foundation for his dwelling on Tazewell avenue, adjoining the residence of Mr. J. T. Daniel.

THEY WERE AT SANTIAGO.

Virginia Officers Who Saw the Heaviest of the Fighting.

Lieutenant William C. Geiger, of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, was in the city yesterday, but left last night, starting to rejoin his regiment, which is stationed near Cheyenne, S. D.

Lieutenant Geiger is a native of Staunton, and has been spending his furlough there. He has earned a good rest as well as promotion, as he was in the fighting around Santiago, where he distinguished himself for bravery. His captain and first lieutenant fell in the charge at San Juan, and Second-Lieutenant Geiger commanded the company at the finish.

He has been made first lieutenant, and it is probable he will soon get a captain's commission. He is one of the finest representatives Virginia has in the regular service.

Post-Assistant-Surgeon John W. Bransford, of Chesterfield county, who was also at Santiago, being the surgeon aboard the Gloucester, the little converted yacht which sank the Spanish torpedo-boat when Cervera made his dash out of the harbor, was also in the city yesterday, and called to pay his respects to Governor Tyler. Dr. Bransford is spending a furlough at his home, in Chesterfield.

PERSONALS AND BRIEFS.

Mr. William Mitchell's family have returned from the mountains to their home, on Park avenue.

The City Democratic Committee held its weekly meeting last night, but only routine business was transacted.

Dr. Pell will lecture on the Sunday-school lesson at the Young Men's Christian Association this afternoon at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Marshall, of Plainfield, N. J., are in the city, visiting friends. Mr. Marshall is a member of the Mystic Shrine.

Rev. M. Ashby Jones, of Leigh-Street Baptist church, and Rev. C. R. Hyde, of the Third Presbyterian church, will exchange pulpits to-morrow morning.

The bridge builders left yesterday for Old Point, where they were entertained at the Hygeia Hotel. They left for their homes via Washington last night.

E. J. Crane sent one of his employees to Baltimore yesterday to identify, if possible, Willie Brice, who is held by the police there for an alleged theft, committed last March.

Assistant-Engineer J. M. Hudgins, of the United States army, stationed at New Orleans, is visiting his brother, Mr. H. H. Hudgins, at No. 60 East Cary street. He will also visit his old home in Buckingham county.
